

Mildred Emmanuelli sets a new standard for extreme makeover special occasions

Revealing Your Inner Extraordinaire

*They say that when you find someone who doesn't drop scissors, loves a challenge, doesn't complain and is always looking for a way to innovate on their job – you are at the presence of a really good Hairdresser. It's not just about a fancy name on a mind blowing locale, with jaw dropping structure everywhere while incomprehensible music plays constantly. Being sophisticated does not assure you'll get the job done right every time. In fact, most people will find it's just a façade for non-delivering individuals who seldom respect their clientele. It's all about loving and enjoying the job.

Mildred Emmanuelli loves what she does, and her clientele knows it. An award-winning hairstylist from Puerto Rico, she is considered a master in color analyzing, formulation and correction among several other skills. No challenge is too great, for each occasion provides a blank canvas on which she can produce a masterpiece. It's a complete and personalized service that's often related to extreme makeovers that change your complete image, from the inside out. You feel good while looking even better. A true satisfying experience that will create a breathtaking up do's and gorgeous makeup combinations to help make that special occasion a true, unique moment in your life.

Alongside Mildred is Jorge L. Miranda, a renowned barber and stylist also from Puerto Rico, who for the past 19 years has dedicated himself to be the greatest of them all, after receiving his barbering license from the Marugie Beauty & Technical College in Caguas, Puerto Rico on 1996. His amazing work is inspired in both traditional and urban barbershop environments, specializing in men's haircuts, hairstyles, beard grooming and facial services in a whole another level than what the public is used to.

Whether you're looking for a place to treat your nails with a unique, classic or modern job or simply are looking for that specific hair care treatment, a totally new Hair Style or a one-stop wedding day or Quinceañera service, Mildred Emmanuelli has the perfect match for you. For those extra special occasions, they make sure everything goes on smoothly and without any surprises. From consultation of hair and makeup needs to a trial run, and even off site travel services, your needs are never a problem. Just make an appointment and let yourself be treated by confident, over delivering beauty professionals.
